Sustainable chat and funs

This went very well. I think the event was a success and it was something different and interesting in my portfolio. There was a great turnout and I think people enjoyed it. I hope some of you got to come check it out.

Green events 101 Workshop

I am putting this together with the Green events coordinator and one of the environmental commissioners. This is going to be really cool. It is an interactive workshop on making events more sustainable. Its going to be held on February 11th, 5:30-7:00 in the Clubs Lounge (on the 4th floor of Shatner). Please tell your departments and clubs about this. It is a great opportunity to share ideas, discuss, and learn how to make a difference when planning events. You can RSVP to Claire Paller at greenevents.ssmu@gmail.com by February 9th.

Internal

Passing the Torch

Ivan and I gave this workshop on succession planning and it was really well received. This is a great initiative we were able to work on with the First year office.

CAF

Francofete is happening now. It is really great. Here is the schedule, hopefully some of you have attended these great events and will check out the rest of them.

GA

The website is updated and info has been going out on listservs. Check out www.ssmu.mcgill.ca/ga for lots of great info. We are putting up the second round of posters and doing some more advertising. There is a facebook event, please join and invite all of your friends. Start talking to people about this, get your friends interested. There will be ads in the papers next week and we will begin making class announcements. If anyone is interested in getting more involved please let me know.

Respectfully Submitted,
 Alex(andra) Brown
